

English exchange - for credit - programs

Study abroad in English at Sciences Po Bordeaux!

International students with little or no background in French, yet who are interested in political and social sciences and who want to experience life in the dynamic city of Bordeaux may apply to study at the institute's English Track Program for one or two semesters. Students from the institute's partner universities can enroll as exchange students, while students from non-partner institutions can enroll through the individual application (Free Mover) process.

The English Track Program is offered to international students with an A1-A2 level of French, or no proficiency in French. Courses are conducted in English, and comprise a mixture of seminars and lectures. In addition, English Track students have the option (and are strongly encouraged!) to take French as a Foreign Language (FLE) courses.
