

Lobbying competition

Presentation

Each year, Spin Partners organizes a competition between several Public Affairs Masters programs. The idea is to work on proposals to respond to real topics submitted by partners selected every year by Spin Partners. Working in groups, the students of the participating Masters have three months to prepare proposals. The dossiers and classes are then evaluated by a jury composed of professionals. This competition is the culmination of the course and gives the participants the opportunity to put the skills they have acquired into practice.
